

How you can support agriculture in Halifax

Buy local farm products at farmers' markets, farm stands, garden centers, and grocery stores.

Attend Town Meetings and vote in favor of articles that support and encourage farming, farmland and agricultural economic development.

Volunteer to help. The Halifax Agricultural Commission is a non-profit organization and your time and/or donation of services are valuable.

Educate yourself. You live in an agricultural town. Learn about farming and farm practices by meeting your farmer neighbors; learning what they grow and/or raise, understand issues that affect them every day.
